- On the other hand, the Company's net income came to COP 841,526 million (USD 323.8 million), for a year-on-year drop of 42.4%, due to non-recurring revenues obtained in 2014 as well as wealth tax accruing in 2015. Upon eliminating both items, net income would have dropped by 16.1%.

August 31, 2015 - Grupo de Inversiones Suramericana – Grupo SURA reported its results for H1 2015, under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), the most salient of which is as follows:

The Company posted consolidated revenues amounting to COP 6.5 billion (USD 2.5 billion), for an increase of 8% with net income reaching COP 841.526 million (USD 323.8 million) on a YTD basis, showing a drop of 42.4%. This was mainly due to (i) wealth tax due this year; and (ii) the non-recurring effect of recording dividends received in 2014 from our related companies under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). With regard to the former item, wealth tax corresponding to 2015 amounted to COP 101.078 million (USD 38.9 million), of which COP 4,563 million (USD 1.8 million) are paid by Grupo SURA. As for the second item, based on the newly adopted IFRS, dividends paid by our related companies were not recorded in 2015, while in 2014 these totaled COP 338.675 million (USD 130.3 million), including those declared and paid in 2014. Upon isolating the effects of both items, the Company's net income would have dropped by 16.1%.

Grupo SURA's consolidated assets came to COP 47.9 billion (USD 18.4 billion) at the end of the first half of this year, showing a drop of 0.1% compared to year-end 2014. Similarly, the equity attributable to the shareholders of Grupo SURA came to COP 20.5 billion (USD 7.9 billion), showing a decline of 7.1%. The change in the total asset figure was affected by a 11.3% increase in investments, given the growth in written premiums, while investments in related companies declined by 11.4% due to falling prices of listed stocks held in the Company's portfolio.

Dividends

Here, it is particularly important to mention that 2014 was a year of transition, and for this reason the dividends received from our related companies were declared based on the profits for the year 2013 for a total of COP 338,675 million (USD 130.3 million). This shall no longer apply, given the changeover to the IFRS this year, and instead these shall be recorded using the equity method.

Insurance Reserves

Insurance reserves reached COP 981,116 million (USD 377.6 million) for the first half of this year, for a year-on-year increase of 46.6%, this mainly due to the increase in the annuity business mainly in Chile.

Administrative expense

Administrative expenses totaled COP 1.2 billion (USD 476.1 million) for a year-on-year increase of 21.1%, mainly due to the amount of wealth tax due in Colombia this year, without which administrative expense would have risen by 11.2%. This tax was recorded in full during the first quarter of this year in the amount COP 101,078 million (USD 38.9 million). The following table shows a breakdown of wealth tax accruing for our main companies:

Wealth Tax	June 2015

Net Income

Grupo SURA's net income at the end of H1 came to COP 841,526 million (USD 323.8 million), showing a drop of 42.4%, which was largely due to non-recurring dividend income received in 2014 as well as wealth tax accruing for 2015 in the amount of COP 101,078 million (USD 38.9 million). Upon eliminating both non-recurring items, net income would have declined by 16.1%. Consequently, the Parent Company recorded COP 729,512 million (USD 280.7 million) in net income.

Consolidated revenues obtained from the different companies belonging to Suramericana S.A, Grupo SURA's Insurance and Social Security subsidiary, came to COP 3.5 billion (USD 1,353.5 million) showing a year-on-year growth of 16.4% whereas total expenditure at the end of H1 came to COP 3.2 billion (USD 1,244.5 million) for an increase of 18.2%. The overall expense figure was negatively affected by wealth tax corresponding to 2015, which accrued in its entirety during the first quarter, for a total value of COP 32,514 million (USD 12.5 million). Finally, consolidated income after minority interest, came to COP 207,253 million (USD 79.8 million) showing an increase of 4.3% mainly due to the amount of wealth tax accruing. Upon eliminating this effect, consolidated income would have risen by approximately 20.7%.

Assets came to COP 11.3 billion (USD 4.4 billion), for a growth of 4.3% compared to year-end 2014. The main variations recorded in this account were investments showing a 6.8% increase, liabilities rising by 4.0% to COP 9.0 billion mainly due to the 4.3% increase in reserves, thereby producing a final growth of 5.4% in equity attributable to the shareholders which reached COP 2.3 billion (USD 891.7 million) at the end of H1.

This segment corresponds to the life insurance solutions provided by the Sura and Asesuisa Life Insurance Companies as well as ARL SURA (our Workers' Compensation subsidiary), which represented a 22.9% year-on-year increase in net income totaling COP 292,455 million (USD 112.5 million). This was made possible by a healthy growth in premiums, favorable claims rates and well-controlled administrative expense.

Written premiums

Premium income at the end of H1 rose by 13.2% to COP 1.6 billion (USD 633.9 million), with Colombia and Salvador posting healthy increases of 12.0% and 9.2% respectively. It is worthwhile noting that, given more competitive conditions on the local insurance market, Group Life and Health Care premiums in Colombia, showed growths of 15.8% and 15.5% respectively with the latter showing a much higher-than- expected increase in the group health care solution. 94% of the premiums corresponding to the health care segment are obtained in Colombia.

Net Income

Net income for the life insurance segment reached COP 292,455 million (USD 112.5 million) showing an increase of 22.9%, this due to the good technical result obtained on a brisk pace of sales combined with a firm control over claims rates and administrative expense.

Car as well as mandatory road accident insurance in Colombia, showed growths in premiums of 16.1% and 19.2% respectively, due to more competitive conditions on the local insurance market. SURA Asset Management posted consolidated assets of COP 21.2 billion (USD 8.2 billion), for a growth of 4.3%, as well as a shareholders' equity of COP 8.5 billion (USD 3.3 billion), showing a decline of 4.5% compared to year-end 2014, this primarily as a result of fluctuations with the exchange rates in different parts of Latin America against the Colombian peso.

The table below shows how different Latin American currencies have performed against the Colombian peso.

	June 2015 June 2014		% Change
Exchange rate	LC/USD	LC/USD	COP/LC
Chile	552.90	621.24	12.93%
Mexico	13.11	15.14	9.88%
Peru	2.80	3.10	14.61%
Colombia	1,958.58	2,485.28	0.00%
Uruguay	22.55	25.65	11.56%

SURA Asset Management performed well during the first half of 2015, with consolidated revenues reaching COP 2.3 billion (USD 902.3 million) for a growth of 19.7%, this mainly due to the increase in premiums and commissions received. It is important to note that AFP Protección and AFP Crecer are not consolidated in SURA Asset Management's financial statements given the 49.4% stake held, and therefore the income received from both companies corresponds to the Company's share of such using the equity method, which totaled COP 40,816.4 million (USD 15.7 million) for this first half of the year.

Total expense came to COP 2.0 billion (USD 766.4 million) representing an increase of 36%, mainly due to a 30.5% increase in operating and administrative expense totaling COP 654,037 million (USD 251.7 million), given COP 63,874 million in wealth tax accruing for 2015 as well as fluctuations with exchange rates. Upon eliminating the effect of fluctuating exchange rates, the growth in expenditure would have been just 16.7%. And if we were to eliminate the effect of the wealth tax due this year, we would be looking at a growth of 5.3% at constant rates, in line with our efforts to control costs.

Net income for the first half of this year came to COP 199,926 million (USD 76.9 million) showing a drop of 43.8%, mainly due to the following factors:

- A decrease in earnings and losses at fair value due to negative appraisals of derivatives which came to COP 20,735 million (USD 8.0 million).
- Wealth tax amounting to COP 63,874 million (USD 24.6 million) for 2015
- Interest expense increased by COP 8,511 million (USD 3.3 million), but the bulk of this is due to converting USD dollars to Colombian pesos, since the actual increase in financial interest comes to COP 4,963.8 million (USD 1.9 million)
- Decrease in the net effect of the exchange difference which came to COP 42,163 million (USD 16.2 million). This exchange difference is due to Sura Asset Management Colombia's foreign currency position which caused a favorable exchange difference for 2014 in the amount of COP 28,031 million (USD 10.8 million) whereas for 2015 this produced a loss of COP 21,316 million (USD 8.2 million).

EBITDA

EBITDA came to COP 558,840 million (USD 215.0 million) at the end of the first half of this year, representing a year-on-year increase of 3.3%. This was mainly affected by the equity method used for recording the stake held in AFP Protección as well as the fluctuations with the exchange rates used for each period. Based on constant exchange rates at June 2015, this drop would have come to 6.1%.

Protección's contribution to Sura Asset Management's overall EBITDA was affected by the equity method used this year which, compared to last year, produced a decrease of 72% in returns on the Company's reserve requirement as well as the amount of wealth tax accruing in Q1 2015 totaling COP 14,140 million (USD 5.4 million). Also, SURA Asset Management posted dividends of COP 34,559 million (USD 13.3 million) from Protección, based on the amount of profits obtained in 2013, which were recorded in this account given the fact that at that time Sura Asset Management held a stake of less than 20%. However, this stake was increased to 49.4% last year, thus warranting the application of the equity method, which was why in 2015 no dividends have been recorded.

Our mandatory pension business remained stable during the first half of this year producing revenues of COP 883,206 million (USD 339.9 million) for a growth of 5.6%.

Here, it is worthwhile noting a 21.2% increase in commission income.

However, the Company's revenues were affected by applying the equity method to Protección which caused a year-on-year drop in this account of 34.4% as well as a year-on-year drop of 36.2% in returns obtained from the Company's reserve requirements. Likewise, revenues for 2014 were higher given the amount of dividends received from Protección that year, as discussed above in the "EBITDA" section.

Commission income

During the first half of 2015, commission income rose by 21.2% to COP 777,221 million (USD 299.1 million), thanks to a higher wage base, which increased by 7.3 % throughout the region. Based on local currencies, commission income rose by an average of 8.2%. It is worthwhile noting that the growth in commissions in Peru, on a constant currency basis, dropped due to the remuneration component (flow) obtained on the mixed commission charged was reduced from 1.45% to 1.23% as of February 2015.

Return on Reserve Requirement

So far this year, the return on the pension reserve requirement (encaje in Spanish) dropped by 42% compared to the same period last year, reaching COP 52,298 million (USD 20.1 million). Using constant rates for both periods, this increase would have come to 48.6%. This was largely due to the sluggish performance of the financial markets in Chile and Mexico.

Mexico posted a 79.8% decline with yields obtained on pension fund AUM, this due to a lower 12-month rate of return. The weighted average return on assets for 2014 came to 15.38% versus a mere 5.91% for 2015.

This same situation occurred in Chile, where our Mandatory Pension funds showed an average rate of return of 14.0% for 2014 compared to just 9.7% this year.

Administrative expense

Operating and administrative expense rose by 19.0% to COP 312,988 million (USD 120.4 million).

This increase was mainly due to employment benefits on a greater number of staff as well as increased amortizations

At constant rates, this increase in expenditure would have been 6.4%, thanks to the efficiencies achieved in Peru and Uruguay. In Mexico, the increase in administrative expense was mainly due to external consulting fees, trademark expense, the amortization of licenses and software, wages and salaries as well as provisions set up on settlement agreements based on performance evaluations.

Net Income

Net income for the first half of this year closed at COP 424,067 million (USD 163.2 million), decreasing by 4.4% when compared to the same period of 2014, mainly affected by increases in total expenditure and taxes of 15.6% and 20.3%, respectively.

At constant rates, this decrease comes to 12.9%, mainly in Chile due to a 45.9% drop in the reserve requirement, and in the case of Colombia due to a lower contribution on the part of Protección (application of the equity method) for the reasons explained above.

^{*} Figures for AFP Protección and AFG Crecer were not consolidated given the 49.36% stake held.

Fund membership

Mandatory Pension Fund membership rose by 1.0% year-on-year for a total of 15.7 million. Here it is important to note that the drop in pension fund membership in Chile and Peru, was due to the prevailing bidding system for new members of the private pension system, which unfortunately SURA Asset Management failed to win.

Our voluntary pension business has performed well producing an important growth of 12.6% in total income. Commission income has increased by 29.7% year-on-year. Total expenditure shows an increase of 45.2% compared to 2014 mainly due to a 61% increase in administrative and operating expense, given a 76% rise in employee benefits given our newly-expanded sales force in this business.

Commission income

This account recorded a 16.2% increase in local currency thanks to a rise of 22.1% in AUM corresponding to our Voluntary Pension business.

The decline in Mexico was mainly due to the fact that our mutual fund management subsidiary in this part of the world, reclassified its co-distribution expense, which last year was recorded as commission and fee expense, whereas this year the net effect is shown in commission income

The change in the case of Peru has to do with the voluntary pension business of both AFP Integra and our mutual fund management subsidiary due to lower levels of AuM recorded by both these companies.

Also, since business segment is a booming business, the growth in sales and administrative expense has outweighed the growth in revenues in some countries, having expanded our sales forces and opened up new lines of business for the purpose of supplementing our entire range of products.

Net flow

The net flow indicator (which gauges the growth in AUM) for our voluntary pension business rose by 11.6%, on a year-on-year basis, mirroring a good level of performance in attracting new AUM in the majority of the countries where we are present.

This indicator declined in the case of Peru and Colombia. In Peru this was mainly due to lower fund returns, which has led to our fund members withdrawing their assets in search of more conservative alternatives. In the case of Protección, this negative growth was due to having purchased a pension fund from Bancolombia in March 2014 for a total of COP 143,591 million (USD 55.3 million). Upon eliminating the effect of the aforementioned items, YTD growth at the end of Q2 compared to the same period last year would have come to 305% at constant rates.

Returns on Assets under Management declined by 58.5% on a year-on-year basis, given substantial volatility on the financial markets in all those countries where we are present, mainly in Colombia and Peru.

Peru's Stock Exchange has recorded substantial declines The Lima Stock Exchange General Index (IGBVL in Spanish) fell by 0.51% in June for a YTD decline of -11.36%. This took place in the latter part of the month and was due to (i) a decline in metal prices in June (with gold and copper falling by -1.52% and -4.15% respectively); (ii) the strength of the dollar; and (iii) the failure of Greece to reach an agreement with its creditors. The fixed-income markets also lost ground amid higher bond yields, with Peru recording increases of up to 45pb.

Revenues from written premiums in Chile, Mexico and Peru, reached COP 1.1 billion, (USD 428.8 million) for a year-on-year growth of 39.2%.
